

Hey Venice, Drink Red. Smile White.

BY LAUREN FARETTA

Ever try to cover up that purple stained lip or teeth of yours after drinking a nice glass of vino? WineStraws is a new company developed by Santa Monican, Jenny LaFever. Her goal was simple. To come up with a plan to conquer our vanity issues so we can live happily stain free while getting our drink on.

Now I know it seems like an oxymoron to drink a classy wine, (I'm sorry, with a white trash straw) but these aren't just your average plastic sticks. They are the right size and weight, in addition they claim the flow of wine into your mouth is just like sipping it from the glass without sacrificing any flavor.

So all you mustache wearing, teeth stained wine connoisseurs out there you are now saved from the devastating embarrassment...now let's just try to work on that drunken behavior of yours, shall we?

Pick up a 4 or 12 pack here.

& Try em out at one of our favorite local wine spots, BIN 73

<http://welovenice.com/2011/03/15/hey-venice-drink-red-smile-white/>